POETRY.

OUR LITTLE CHURCH.

FROM THE GARDEN OF EDEN.

Oh, only we know exactly there,
The golden evening sunshine fair,
The low and cool and streaming,
How soft and tranquil all around!
Whom shall I like on earth be found?

Through the green foliage, white and clear,
It peeps out at us so shy,
Round on our little village here,
And down through all the valley,
With its own green and purity.

Not always does it face us so,
When temptations lead us on;
Yet even there the little bell
Rings out its sweet and clear tone,
The sunshine brighter comes again.

And where the organ plays and sounds,
The psalmist's voice is heard,
How every heart thus thrills and bounds,
And earth and heaven seem blending,
Such feelings in each bosom swell,
But what he feels we can not tell.

Oh, we in evening's golden glow
The little window gazing,
Aye, look ye in, ye gaze and glow
As if we were not there,
But we are in the garden of Eden.

Believe me, when I say quite true—
The little church is glowing,
The little bell is ringing,
The little voice is heard,
The little heart is beating,
The little soul is soaring.

Believe me, when I say quite true—
The little church is glowing,
The little bell is ringing,
The little voice is heard,
The little heart is beating,
The little soul is soaring.

Believe me, when I say quite true—
The little church is glowing,

The little heart is beating,
The little soul is soaring.

Believe me, when I say quite true—
The little church is glowing,
The little bell is ringing,
The little voice is heard,
The little heart is beating,
The little soul is soaring.

Believe me, when I say quite true—
The little church is glowing,

The women and children waited near in terrible anxiety, for no one understood the words which were spoken, and these ominous preparations led them to imagine the worst.

At this juncture, the son of the village pastor appeared upon the scene. He was a young man of twenty, who studied theology in order to become his father's successor, and fortunately had some knowledge of French. The appearance of things, with the cries and entreaties of the terrified people, told him that his help was wanted. He immediately addressed himself to Lieut.
Lamoignon, and asked for an explanation of the proceedings.

"I am ordered to punish this village, an-
